Medico-Legal Telehealth Services & Reports in Ireland

Mediconline is proud to offer a comprehensive medico-legal reports Ireland, designed to support solicitors, insurance companies, employers, and individuals who require expert clinical assessments for legal matters. Our service brings together experienced GPs, psychiatrists, and psychologists who specialise in producing accurate, clear, and legally compliant medico-legal reports.

Through secure and convenient telehealth consultations, we ensure that clients receive high-quality assessments without the stress or delay often associated with in-person appointments. Whether a case involves personal injury, psychological trauma, workplace incidents, medical negligence, or capacity evaluations, we match each client with the most appropriate clinician for their specific needs. This careful matching process ensures that every report is evidence-based, objective, and aligned with Irish legal standards.
